Let's make this simple, if we're not secure on the internet as it is, what makes you think we're safe on VOIP? If the Law enforcement can easily listen to us, what makes you think other people won't have access? Doesn't this breach our privacy to a point? Just remember, hackers are always lurking around. think of the ways to prevent things on happening in the future. Not how to implementing new technology, it'll cause more headache.

basically, what i'm trying to say is, think of ways to protecting people. not snooping on them.
